

Where to Go

How is this real
It can't be true
It was all in my dreams
I don't know what to feel
But I want to thank you
You helped me mend the broken seams

What is next
The dreams became reality
I want more hope
Now my life is a bunch of texts
I was so happy
I feel I can't reach the end of the rope

I want to go up
Life must be larger
Who am I
I see a half empty cup
Maybe I'm just a dreamer
All I do is wait and sigh

What can I become
I want to inspire
Differences need to be made
I need help, just some
I must ignite the fire
My dreams begin to fade

Where can I go
I should be proud
I feel chained
Hopes' voices are so loud
I've been the attention of the crowd
My dreams I have blamed

I must go
Sadness fills me
I'm just me
What more can I show
I want to be set free
Why can't they see
