

5c - Bewitch and Manipulate

Bewitch and Manipulate

Your thoughts are not your own.

They are twisted and morphed into what is expected,

Into what is known as “the norm.”

If you harness your own ideas,

Forget they ever existed.

Hold your tongue when you have an opinion to express.

Stitch your eyes shut if what you see is not what others perceive.

Tie your hands behind your back if you itch to use them to bring change.

You must conform to me,

Or it will not be pretty.

Those voices you hear?

Irrelevant.

Those voices make you different,

And who wants to be different from everyone else?

Who really desires to have their own identity?

I know you don't.

I know what everyone truly wants,

You included.

You all wish to fit in.

You are the same as every individual in this world.

Do not expect anything different.

Listen to me closely.

My words will guide you.

Life will gift you with many riches,

If and only if you conform.

Do you accept these terms?

No is not an option.